

A SNAPSHOT OF OUR

Collaborative Impact

in 2024

700+

Youth completed trafficking prevention and awareness education in Kitsap County

12

Service providers united in policy advocacy in Olympia

43%

Caseload capacity increase at a partner organization

$200,800

SY grant funds provided to five partner organizations

Coalition Grant Areas of Service

1,041

Total youth receiving services from a StolenYouth partner

52

LGBTQIA+ youth served by our partners

100%

Youth in Kitsap Juvenile Detention receiving trafficking and exploitation screening

68

Youth survivors receiving job training and placements

$30,485

Grant funds for eight survivors through the Empowerment Fund for education and career goals

$39,199

Funds granted to 64 survivors from the Ginny Fund for emergency needs

Thank you for your gifts that make all of this possible!

Stolen Youth
prevent. connect. empower.

Numbers help us understand the scope of the solutions we're pursuing.
Individual stories help us understand the impact those solutions have in a young person's life. Here is 12-year-old Dani's story.

Dani* is a very young survivor of sex trafficking who was referred to Chelsea, an Organization for Prostitution Survivors advocate, by the court. She had been removed from her home after she was identified as a victim of an online sex trafficking ring. Dani has made incredible progress in her healing since being removed from her parents despite all that she has experienced. She has been attending school regularly, and meets weekly with Chelsea at the foster home where she lives.

The two of them create art together and sing along to 80's hits (her favorite). Dani has had challenges regulating her emotions and attempts to run away when she feels triggered. This is something Chelsea has been supporting her with in finding other ways to self-soothe that protect her safety and well being.

In one session, Dani looked at Chelsea and stated "I am a trafficking survivor. I am a survivor." Chelsea promptly responded with, "You are a survivor. A powerful strong survivor who can be and do anything she wants in this world." This was a monumental breakthrough for Dani in the process of identifying that what happened to her was not her fault. She has struggled with understanding that what happened to her should have never happened. This was a moment where she was able to see herself as a survivor and not someone who "deserved" this.

"This moment, this powerful breakthrough is a result of the grant from StolenYouth. Your funding has allowed OPS the honor and privilege of supporting youth experiencing CSEC to receive healing and empowerment after being robbed of their power in egregious and unfathomable ways."

~ Chelsea, OPS Youth Advocate

